Dr Adrian Goh obtained his BDS from the National University of Singapore in 2003. He served as a Dental Officer in the Ministry of Health, Singapore from 2003-2008. He was awarded the Singapore Excellence Service Award, Silver in 2004 (youngest dental officer). He served in different government institutions including National Dental Centre, Health Promotion Board , School Dental services, and Polyclinics. Dr Goh was appointed head of Queenstown and Geylang polyclinics during his tenure. He joined private practice after finishing his bond with the government and was the Physician leader for Raffles Dental group Tampines branch (2012-2014) and was a Raffles Dental International advisor (2014-2018)

He completed his Certificate of Oral implantology from the University of Frankfurt in 2010 and subsequently completed his Master of Oral Implantology from the University of Frankfurt in 2016

Dr Goh is a multidisciplinary dental surgeon with special interest in implantology and aesthetic dentistry . He was a KOL for Denstply Sirona 2014-16, Ultradent 2014-2018, has presented posters, and lectures both locally and internationally on implant and aesthetic dentistry. He currently serves as a Ultradent Clinical consultant for APAC- Sub Sahara.

Dr Kenneth Goh believes that no two patients are the same and therefore he customises dental treatment according to the needs of each patient, ensuring that they receive the appropriate quality of care.

Dr Kenneth goes the extra mile to make patients feel comfortable and relaxed during their dental treatment as he believes in helping patients overcome their dental phobia. He makes the effort to communicate concisely and clearly to patients by using only non-jargon when explaining about dental treatment.

As a clinician, Dr Kenneth enjoys all aspects of dentistry with a keen interest in Implantology, Oral Surgery and Aesthetic dentistry. He places heavy emphasis in continuing professional development and education. Therefore, he attends conferences and workshops both locally and internationally, which allows him to offer the most up to date treatment options to his patients.

He is currently a member of the Singapore Dental Association (SDA), Australian Dental Association (ADA), College of General Dental Practitioners (CGDP) and the Aesthetic Dentistry Society Singapore (ADSS)

Dr Nicholas Ng received his Bachelor of Dental Surgery from the National University of Singapore.

As a general dentist, Dr Nicholas is passionate about restoring both form and function to his patients' smiles. Over the years, he has accumulated experience in treating a myriad of dental problems. He is now in private practice in a clinic located in the Central Business District.

Since before becoming a dentist, Dr Nicholas has had a keen interest in photography and art. This has translated into a passion for aesthetic composites in his dentistry. As a clinician, he has been documenting his work carefully for every procedure. He genuinely enjoys learning, and keeps it a priority to keep improving his work for the sake of his patients.

Dr Lin Dan graduated with a Bachelor of Dental Surgery from the National University of Singapore. She pursued her specialist training in Prosthodontics at the University of Southern California, USA.. She is a Diplomate of the American Board of Prosthodontics, Fellow of the American College of Prosthodontists and Fellow of the Academy of Medicine, Singapore. She is also a Member of the International Team for Implantology (ITI) and Academy of Osseointegration (AO).

Dr Lin is part of the Adjunct Faculty at the National University of Singapore. She has also participated actively as part of the Executive Committee of the Prosthodontics Society of Singapore and the Asian-Pacific Society of Osseointegration, helping provide a platform for continuing education in the specialty of Prosthodontics.

Dr Leroy Kiang received his training in dentistry at the National University of Singapore. After graduation, he served as a Dental Officer in Singhealth Polyclinics, where he received the SHQSA Silver Award for his outstanding service and dedication to patient care. He then went on to practice Advanced General Dentistry as a Dental Officer in the Singapore Armed Forces for 2 years before joining the team at Orchard Scotts Dental.

A firm believer in lifelong learning, Dr Leroy regularly attends courses and lectures to advance his skills in clinical dentistry. He is an accredited Invisalign provider and has received training in multiple dental implant systems. He has also served as a member of the Executive Committee of the Aesthetic Dentistry Society, Singapore (ADSS). His key clinical interests are aesthetic composite restorations, CAD/CAM/digital dentistry, and smile makeovers using minimal prep ceramic veneers. As a proponent of minimally invasive aesthetic dentistry, Dr Leroy believes in balancing biology, function and aesthetics to create beautiful and long lasting smiles.

Alongside dentistry, Dr Leroy is an avid fitness enthusiast and is an ex-competitive powerlifter and physique athlete. He is a guest radio commentator on One FM 91.3 and was previously invited to host a weekly radio segment called "Get Stronger with Dr Leroy", discussing various topics related to both fitness and dentistry. He is also active on Instagram and uses social media as a means to inspire others to strike a healthy balance between career excellence and physical well-being.
